ORDER:-

After formation of Telangana State, some of the on-going major projects taken up by the erstwhile Government of Andhra Pradesh in Telangana were reviewed and found to be having certain deficiencies in terms of location, unresolved inter-state aspects, hydrology, storage requirements and integrated irrigation plans.

Accordingly, these projects were reviewed in detail with experts and WAPCOS, (A Central Government Undertaking) and decided to propose certain changes as a part of re-engineering. The Government vide reference 1st cited constituted a Cabinet Sub-Committee to examine the mode of entrustment and implementation of changes and the recommendations of the Cabinet Sub-Committee had been approved by the Government.

In order to complete these projects with the least time and cost, it was decided that:

The changes in scope of work was categorized as divisible, indivisible and additional work. Wherever existing agencies come forward to do the work at the old agreement rate, the indivisible work is recommended to be assigned to them. As far as divisible works are concerned, subject to willingness of the existing Agency to carry out these works at the old rates, i.e., "Swiss Challenge" method shall be followed to discover the true value of the contract in a transparent manner. As far as additional item of works are concerned, or where agencies are not willing to execute the work, e-procurement process for allotting these works shall be followed.

Government after careful consideration, have taken the following decision in respect of P.V. Narsimha Rao Kanthanapally Sujala Sravanthi Project – Phase-I – Package-I (Tupakalagudem Barrage):

To entrust the work to the existing executing agency of Kanthanapally Barrage with existing agreement rates of SSR 2012-13 and agreement conditions with proper safeguards.

Before taking necessary action, concerned Chief Engineers have to sign binding agreements with the concerned agencies to that effect.
